UPCOMING EVENTS

STEP 7 - TRADITION 7

Step 7: Humbly Asked Him to Remove Our Shortcomings
After completing a searching and fearless moral inventory, admitting the exact nature of our wrongs to another person, and becoming entirely ready to change, we take another essential action: humbly ask a Higher Power to remove our shortcomings. Humility is a foundational principle of the Twelve Steps. True humility, as defined in the literature, is the desire to seek and do God's will. Step 7 initiates an ongoing process of spiritual development as we pray:
"My Creator, I am now willing that you should have all of me, good and bad. I pray that you now remove from me every single defect of character which stands in the way of my usefulness to you and my fellows. Grant me strength, as I go out from here, to do your bidding. Amen."
We acknowledge the goal of progress, without expectation of perfection. Our character defects diminish as willingness grows with daily effort.

Tradition 7: Every A.A. Group Ought to Be Fully Self-Supporting, Declining Outside Contributions
Tradition Seven establishes the financial and spiritual independence of Alcoholics Anonymous as an organizational principle. Each group is to be sustained exclusively through the voluntary contributions of its members. The long form of Tradition 7 states that public solicitation of funds using the AA name is "highly dangerous," and that acceptance of gifts carrying any obligation is "unwise." This is because outside funding introduces the potential for outside influence, which can compromise the fellowship's primary purpose of carrying the message to the alcoholic who still suffers. The 12 & 12 further cautions that AA treasuries accumulating funds beyond prudent reserves risks "futile disputes over property, money and authority."
